Vote for the Hospital By-law on Monday Next

On Monday next, February 1st, the burgesses of the City of Wetaskiwin will be asked to record their votes on a money by-law authorizing the City Council to take a loan of $27,000.00 by selling debentures at 6% repayable in equal annual instalments for fifteen years.

The loan is based on an agreement between the City of Wetaskiwin and the Municipality of Montgomery to build a community hospital in Wetaskiwin.

The proposed hospital is to be approximately twenty beds and to cost around $40,000.00, and the site for the building will be selected by the newly elected hospital board.

All the assets of the present City Hospital are to be turned over to the new board. The assets consist of cash and agreements amounting to over $11,000.00, bank accounts which should have a value of at least $4,000.00 and considerable equipment in the present hospital which will be useable in the new building.

It is considered that $27,000.00 together with the assets on hand, will be ample for the building and equipping of the new hospital, but if it is more than is required, the sale of bonds can be curtailed to the required amount.

Of this $27,000.00 the Municipality of Montgomery agrees to repay $15,000.00 together with interest as bonds become due thus leaving the actual amount to be paid by the City to be $12,000.00 and interest.

There is no provision in the Municipal Act whereby two municipalities may join and borrow money to erect a hospital outside the boundaries of either one of them, except under the Municipal Hospitals Act. Therefore it is necessary that Wetaskiwin raise the whole amount on the credit of the City, and Montgomery has agreed to repay the City its share of the required loan.

A part of the agreement between the two municipalities is that each municipality be responsible for its own patients at a $2.00 per day rate. Patients coming from noncontributing municipalities will be required to pay full rates.

Under the proposed system of management it is considered that the new hospital will pay its way.

If the Ladies' Hospital Aid and the different societies will continue to assist in the way they have so generously done in the past, there is every reason to believe there will be a margin of profit each year which can be returned pro rata to the municipalities contributing.

But though the Hospital pays its way for running expenses, this does not mean that the City will be free of payments.

The City and the Municipality of Montgomery are erecting the building and are expected to repay their share of that loan each year. Also in addition, the difference between a $2.00 per day rate and the actual cost of a day's maintenance per patient will be paid by the Municipality to which the patient belongs.

The total amount liable each year should not make a difference of over half a mill in taxation, because the Council have been contributing $1,000.00 per year to the hospital as a grant for several years.

The ratemakers will have the satisfaction of knowing that should necessity arise, the use of the hospital will cost only $2.00 per day, also that the burgesses are assisting to secure hospitalization at this very low rate.

In the agreement between the two municipalities there is provision made for Bigstone or any portion of it, to become a party to this community hospital scheme and share in present existing assets on same terms, at any time within the next three years.

Many difficulties have been experienced in getting the Hospital question to the present stage, and it is sincerely hoped that the citizens of Wetaskiwin, realizing the necessity of a new hospital, will express their willingness to assist the project in every way by voting for the by-law on Monday next.

WM. IRVINE, M.P., ADDRESSES KIWANIS ON GOLD STANDARD

The Kiwanis meeting on Tuesday evening, had a Scotch ting to commemorate the immortal memory of Bobbie Burns. Little Beryl Giehrst danced a Scotch reel very gracefully, followed by the Sailors' Hornpipe, each in appropriate costume. The old favorite, Stewart Campbell, sang a stirring Scotch solo, and led the club singing. Rev. A. R. Schrag contributed a short witty address on Scotch humor.

Wm. Irvine, M.P., spoke to the Club on "Purchasing Power and the World Crisis." He stated that the staples of life, examples of food, clothing and shelter are produced in great abundance by the capitalist system. One of our chief difficulties is that our system of distribution has fallen down. The chief factor in distribution is finance and this has fallen down. Money is scarce. This has caused a slump in prices and depression. The speaker then proceeded to discuss the gold standard. He said that Sir Robert Peel had introduced the gold standard into Great Britain. Gold alters its value as gold prices or any other commodity. This standard is not economically sound. It is not safe. It has to be abandoned in war time and during times of business distress such as the present crisis. Canada is not now on the gold standard, in spite of the declarations of Premier Bennett to the contrary. There are less than eleven billions of gold in the world, while world debts amount to many times this amount. This standard is not sane. We have to restrict our purchase of goods to the value of gold on hand. This medium of money would not also be a commodity. The medium of money should be accurate, stable, sufficient and not a commodity. Goods and money must come together at the right time. Money should be issued based on our actual assets. In conclusion, the speaker stressed the hope that our currency may be established on a silver and gold basis, and it something like this is not done within a year, a crash will undoubtedly come.

The two Wetaskiwin ladies' rinks which competed in the Edmonton Bospital were successful in winning prizes in the visitors' events. The rink skipped by Mrs. McDonald won the jumbo sweaters, and the rink headed by Mrs. Wright won beautiful perfume sets.

G. H. Williams gave an illustrated lecture on his recent trip to Europe and Russia under the auspices of the United Farmers of Canada in the Elks' Hall on Monday evening. The pictures shown were taken by himself and were very interesting indeed. The lecture depicted the conditions in Russia as he saw them, and it is unfortunate there was not a larger crowd to hear him.

A curling game of particular interest took place on Wetaskiwin ice, on Thursday evening last, when a rink composed of Robert, Munn, S. S. Matthews, D. Ritchie and H. G. MacDonald, who will play other aggregations in the McDonald Briar competition, played a local rink composed of G. Graham, skip; R. S. Murray, J. W. Somers and Eli Abousafy. Matthews, who will play other aggregations in the McDonald Briar competition, played a local rink composed of G. Graham, skip; R. S. Murray, J. W. Somers and Eli Abousafy. The score was 6 to 8, at the eleventh, and the visiting rink made an exceptionally fine draw with his last rock to win the game.

Various votes of thanks were tendered in all sincerity. Confidence and appreciation of all leaders was voiced, and a motion of recognition to Mr. and Mrs. Schrag was unanimously and enthusiastically carried.

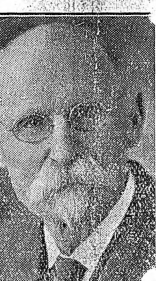

Dr. Stevenson was elected by ballot to be an elder in the place of Dr. Gundersen, and V. C. French and W. A. MacAllister were re-elected to the Board of Stewards. At the close of the business there was a brief social time about the tables served by the Women's Association. With such a spirit of unity there can be little doubt that 1932 will exceed 1931, which was after all a good year in the Church's history.

Obituary

CLARA HERMAN SWANSON

The citizens of Wetaskiwin and community were shocked on Thursday last, when it was learned that Clara Herman Swanson had been called to his heavenly home. He was one of the real pioneers of the community, as he and his life partner arrived here on April 15th, 1893. They took up a homestead about seven miles east of Wetaskiwin. As a result of hard work and thriftiness, they soon built up one of the finest and most comfortable homes in the rural community, and they resided there until the year 1906, when they moved into Wetaskiwin, and Mr. Swanson was given the responsible position of caretaker of the Court House. He held this position until about two years ago, when he was obliged to retire owing to ill health.

The late Mr. Swanson was born in Sweden on May 28th, 1853, and was therefore in his 79th year. On November 28th, 1880, he married Mrs. Swanson, who predeceased him in February last. They had a family of seven children; the three surviving children being Charles and Abbie of Wetaskiwin, and Mrs. O. H. Ellason of Winfield. He also leaves a large circle of friends and acquaintances to mourn his loss.

Deceased had always taken a very keen interest in political, educational and religious affairs. He was a member of the Swedish Mission Church of Wetaskiwin, and was a member of the Wetaskiwin Liberal Association, and for a number of years served as a valued member of the Board of Trustees of the Cherry Grove Public School district. He was a charter member of the first, and the Swedish Mission Church, and took a prominent and very active part in building the fine edifice in this city. He was also one of the prime movers in having the church erected in the New Sweden district.

The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon last, services being conducted in the Swedish Mission Church by Rev. Quarnstrom, President of the Mission Covenant of Canada, assisted by Rev. Mr. Anderson of Highland Park. The funeral was very largely attended, and the very large display of floral tributes evidenced the high esteem in which deceased was held. The pall bearers were Messrs. Oscar Mosseson, Peter Olson, August Anderson, G. Bradenborg, Victor Johnson and Emmanuel Johnson, and the interment took place in the New Sweden cemetery.

The late Mrs. Noyd was born in Sweden December 11th, 1859, and emigrated to the United States in 1912, and in 1914 was united in holy matrimony to Mr. Henry Noyd. The family moved to the

U.F.A. WOULD STOP FALSE GUARANTEE BY AUCTIONEERS

Legislation making it an offence for any auctioneer to give a false guarantee, with such offence being punished by fine and cancellation of license and owners of chattels participating in guarantee also to be liable to fine, was asked in a resolution adopted by the United Farmers of Alberta convention on Thursday.

In support of the resolution it was pointed out that auctioneers, when conducting farm sales often guarantee chattels in order to secure better prices, in many cases such guarantee being worthless and only deceiving the public.

Why a Board of Trade? Director Gives Reasons

H. G. YOUNG EXPRESSES VIEWS ON MORATORIUM

Debt adjustment assignments in northern Alberta number 932, as well as large numbers of cases in which no assignment has been made, but compromise between debtors and creditors has been effected, according to Philip H. Wedderburn, northern Alberta debt adjuster under the act.

H. G. Young, of Millet, declared that 75 per cent of the farmers in the province deserved the protection of the Debt Adjustment act.

"The farmers are on a cash basis now," declared the speaker, alluding to the warning sounded by Premier Brown Wednesday evening.

Urging approval of the moratorium, Delegate Young said there was nothing like letting the financial interests know they were not getting anything until conditions improved.

Opposing the resolution, another delegate said it could only postpone the day of reckoning. The whole mess was due to a collapse of the economic system, he declared.

"Would a moratorium mean the stopping of all tax payments?" asked a delegate.

"It could mean the ceasing of collection through enforcement of tax arrears," said Delegate Young.

W. Irvine, M.P., suggested the need of careful investigation of such an important question before deciding on the course of action. Some amendments might be made to safeguard men from being put out of their home for debt without putting a "death blanket" over the province in the form of a moratorium. He fully agreed with that section of the resolution as to interest charges.

After a verbal battle of nearly three hours, and one of the most contentious in years, delegates to the United Farmers convention rejected a resolution calling for a moratorium in this province.

The resolution was defeated by only four votes, 95 delegates being in favor and 91 against. 50 votes were the result, that the delegates were called upon to stand in sections.

Weddings

WALTERS-ZILKIE

At the German Baptist church, Edmonton, on New Year's Day, the marriage took place of Miss Elsie Zilkie, daughter of Mrs. John Zilkie of Leduc, and Mr. Bernard Walters of Wetaskiwin, the Rev. A. Kramer officiating. The bride looked charming in a powder blue gown of georgette on lace, long fashion, with white lace and white shoes. She carried a beautiful bouquet of orchids and lilies-of-the-valley. The bridesmaid, Miss Ruby Hardy, niece of the bride, was charming in canary yellow and carried a bouquet of daisies. Mr. Arthur Walters, brother of the groom, acted as best man. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, where about a hundred guests were assembled. Lunch was served buffet style the dining room being tastefully decorated with blue and white streamers from a hanging bell in the centre and the table decorations were roses and carnations and a three-tier wedding cake. Many beautiful and useful gifts were received by the young couple from relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Walters will reside in Leduc until the spring when they intend moving to their farm near Wetaskiwin.

Is it worth it many times over?

For example, are these activities not beneficial to Wetaskiwin and district?

(a) The revival of standing field crop competition (which has been abandoned last year on account of finances);

(b) Junior Swine Club to be continued;

(d) Junior Grain Judging Competition;

(e) School Fair to be organized;

(f) Descriptive Booklets of Wetaskiwin distributed to all parts of Canada and U.S.A.

(g) Tourist trade and travelling;

(h) Road signs showing the way from the highways into Wetaskiwin and out;

(i) Endeavors to have gravelled highway to Pigeon Lake and its accomplishment;

(j) Endeavour to straighten highway between Millet and Wetaskiwin with the removal of the dangerous Chet Niles bridge and its accomplishment.

In short, all these efforts will promote trade and commerce for the City of Wetaskiwin and enable merchants and business men to improve their business by financial returns.

The depression is over. Subscribe cheerfully $1 for membership to the Wetaskiwin Board of Trade to W. Bridgeman, Major Baker, Secretary, or Curt Smith, Driford Hotel.

Let's go to make a successful 1932.

COST OF LIVING IN CANADA DROPS

Ottawa, Jan. 22.—Cost of living in Canada has dropped by over 15 per cent during the past two years, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports. This is the second largest decrease among the leading nations, United States leading with a drop of 16.5 per cent.

Germany ranks third with a 12.9 per cent drop. Great Britain fourth with 3.6 and France fifth with 8.9 per cent. One of the reasons Canada and United States and France rank so high is the extensive agricultural developments of these countries.

In Canada the chief factor in reducing the cost of living has been the fall in the price of food, 33.2 per cent. Clothing has dropped 18.5 per cent, rents six per cent and fuels, 2.4 per cent.

OUT WEST

OUT WEST

Jean McAlpine, a trim girl in brown jersey, sat on the west-bound train, contemplating what lay before her in the future at her brother's ranch at Williams Lake, B.C.

Two weeks ago, in answer to her brother's earnest invitation, she left her Ontario home to come out west.

Stopping in Calgary to visit a friend, she found a telegram from Jamie announcing that he would be unable to meet her on the day of her arrival, but would have his car for her at Mike's garage.

Thus it was with a palpitating heart she stepped off the train at Williams Lake. How like Ontario was this little western town. There were no cowboys or Indians at the street corners to show that this was the romantic land of the golden west.

She had no difficulty in finding the car at Mike's garage.

Under her practical hand the little roadster glided down Main street at a speed which amazed the citizens. She soon found herself on the big main road leading west, which Jamie had told her to follow.

The air was balmy and scented with the odors of pine and fir, mingled with the sweet scent of clover. Jean took a deep breath. How glorious to be in this wonderful west.

"God's own country, where men are men," she remembered one famous author saying.

Out of a cloud of dust ahead of her emerged a rider whose uniform showed he to be a member of the Mounted Police. She averted the car to the side to meet him but he suddenly wheeled his horse across the road as if to stop her. In a second he was off the horse and stood with a foot on the running board.

"I beg your pardon, madam, but are you sure that is your car?"

"My brother left it in the garage for me to drive home," she replied. "We have heard those stories before," he answered. "Last night a car was stolen from Mike's garage, and how am I to know but what this is stolen also? And besides," he added, "I happen to recognize this particular car."

All this time Jean remained silent. "What's your name?" he demanded.

"Jean — or McAlpine. My brother —"

"Now, youngster, you just turn that car around and follow me."

The Mounted Police to a neighboring ranch where Jamie was tallying cattle.

At the far end of the wire Jean heard a grim voice.

"Say, listen here man. If you don't want your car stolen, you'd better come to town. Yeah, a slick looking girl tried to insinuate that she has a perfect right to drive your car. Says her name's Jean McAlpine. Uh huh."

"What the deuce you laughing at?" "Why man," said Jamie. "Are you trying to arrest my sister Jean?"

"No, by George, but you do look ripping when you're mad."

The brother and sister spent the evening talking of their old home and old acquaintances.

The next few days Jamie took Jean all around the ranch. Showed her the pastures, cattle and horses. She was especially interested in the horses.

"Some day, I'm going to be a cowboy and ride one of these mustangs. But Jamie, where are your neighbors? I haven't seen a house for miles and miles."

He was going to visit a bachelor neighbor that day, and did Jean want to come along? The neighbor's name, Jamie explained, was Finny John.

"Why what a queer name. Has he no other?" "Well, you see, he's a Finn, and has some queer unpronounceable surname, so we always call him Finny John."

Finny John's one roomed shack proved to be clean and tidy. He was glad to meet Jamie's sister. "For," he said, "she was bound to be nice if she was related to Jamie."

As they were alone that evening, Jamie asked her how she liked B.C. She answered that the country was not as romantic and picturesque as she had expected. "Everything seems to be so civilized. And they call it the wild and woolly west. Just think I haven't seen a real cowboy yet."

"Time enough for that, old dear. You'll see everything soon, even the cowboys. By the way, I saw Stan Morris today (your Mountie, you know) and I asked him over for sup-

Tell her I'll see her to-night Stan."

"What?" But Jamie had already hung up. Turning around, he encountered a pair of laughing eyes. A merry voice said:

"Pleasure, Mr. Policeman, may I go now?"

"Er—cars have been stolen before, and," he added hurriedly, "of course I recognized your brother's car and I naturally jumped to the conclusion that you were running away with it. I'm fearfully sorry, but you see Jamie's my best friend. My name's Stan Morris, and I'm glad to know you," he added.

The remainder of Jean's journey was very pleasant. The road lay a hundred yards above the Fraser river. At the left was a valley with tall spruces and firs climbing up to the skyline. The road climbed and dipped and twisted. From the high spots she could see a fine view of the country. She saw the narrow path of the road disappearing around a curve, a couple of cows in a tree top overhanging the river, and an eagle floating high up against the pale blue sky. Another hour's drive brought her to Jamie's ranch house.

The little bungalow was set back among tall pines, mountain ash and honeysuckle. Flowers and ferns of all kinds grew in profusion beneath the trees. Nodding yellow poppies edged the winding pathway which led to the house. All this beauty proclaimed Jamie's love for nature.

A yellow colle stole down the path of the road. In a moment, she vaguely remembered, was Jean.

The door of the house was left unlocked in the manner of the western people. She expected to find a typical western ranch-house, but here were many of the conveniences of a modern city house. The rooms were cozy and homelike with books, magazines and rugs, and a large mouse hole for the decorative touch.

Hunger sent her to rummage in the pantry. There she found jam, newly laid eggs, and fresh bread and butter. Her hunger appeased, she explored the rest of the house.

Towards evening she heard a step in the hall and heard her brother's welcome voice.

"Welcome to B.C., old dear. So you were almost arrested this morning. Quite a handsome Mountie, eh sis?" Jean wouldn't admit that he was handsome.

"He needn't have been so suspicious of me. I don't look like a thief, do I?"

"No, by George, but you do look ripping when you're mad."

The brother and sister spent the evening talking of their old home and old acquaintances.

The next few days Jamie took Jean all around the ranch. Showed her the pastures, cattle and horses. She was especially interested in the horses.

TRAVELING MAN ENDORSES ALL-BRAN

Says It Brought Relief From Constipation

"I want to take this unsolicited means to tell you what ALL-BRAN has done for me."

"I am on the road all the time, and this has a tendency to constipate me, or any one who travels all the time. I used to suffer a great deal from constipation, until some one told me about Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Since I have been eating this cereal, I have been cured of constipation. I heartily endorse it to any one suffering as I did."

Mr. B. F. Pollard. (Address on request.)

Constipation is caused by lack of two things in the diet: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines. Vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract. Laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN provides both. At the same time, it supplies iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is similar to that of lettuce. Within the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently moves the intestines of wastes. Being a natural corrective ALL-BRAN is not habit-forming.

How much better than risking pills and drugs—so often harmful. Two tablespoons daily will overcome most types of constipation—no cases, with every meal. If you have intestinal trouble not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal with milk or cream, or use in cooking. At all grocers in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

tomorrow night. You'll like him."

The next afternoon found Jean busy getting supper ready. She was not very skilled in the culinary art, but with the aid of a cookbook, she hoped to prepare a delicious meal.

"A couple of hours before supper," the cook should be in the kitchen, your coat in the oven and forget about it until near meal time." This Jean did, and promptly forgot about it.

She slipped into an old rose crepe frock, over which she wore a frilly white apron.

There was a knock at the door, and Stan Morris walked in. "Jean, meet Mr. Stanfield Percival Douglas Morris."

"Please, you won't arrest me this time, will you?" said Jean mischievously.

Stan grinned boyishly. "Might miss my supper, if I did." While the boys talked, Jean went to the kitchen to see about supper. A burnt smell came to her nostrils. Jamie came out, too.

"Oh, Jamie, my potatoes have boiled dry. They're burned brown."

"Never mind," consoled Jamie. "Well, anyway, there's the roast. Oh, what if that burnt too? I forgot all about it. It's Jamie's. It's all hard and black. Oh, what'll I do?" she wailed. "My supper is all spoiled."

"Why don't you make some of those delicious baking powder biscuits you used to make at home?" offered Jamie. "With dried beef, biscuits and jam, and coffee, we'll have a feast fit for a king. And what about that gelatine pudding you make? That's alright, isn't it? And the chocolate cake?"

In about twenty minutes they sat down to supper.

"The potatoes and meat," said Jamie, "had a little, er, accident."

"Oh, Jamie," protested Jean, flushing. "Don't look so horrified, sis. Nobody cares about Stan. He's just home folks. Try some of Jean's biscuits, Stan. They're rather famous at home."

Stan did, and they disappeared with amazing rapidity.

"By jove, Miss McAlpine. These are good biscuits. Mind if I take my tenth one?"

Jean smiled gratefully. "Jean, eat the formality," said Jamie. "Make it Jean and Stan."

"Er—Jean, may I have another biscuit?"

The evening was spent very pleasantly. Stan was a very interesting conversationalist. His stories were exciting enough to make Jean think that the west wasn't so tame after all. At a late hour Stan arose reluctantly to leave.

"If he came again, would Jean make some more of those delicious biscuits?"

Jean made up her mind that her next supper would be perfect in every detail, and to do her justice, it was. In fact it was so perfect that Stan made a habit of dropping in nearly every other night.

The two boys did their best to show Jean a good time. They hiked, fished, swam and rode horseback. One day they took her to a stampede.

"But," said Jamie, winking at Stan. "Do you think it's wise to take her there? Think of all those handsome cowboys she'll see."

Never thought Jean, had she seen anything so thrilling except in the movies. It was all so gay, so colorful and unreal. Indians too, in their bright shawls and dresses mingled with the crowd.

The most exciting moment to her was when they opened up the corral gates to let out a new rider and horse. With a wave of the hat and a whoop, they were off. Jean held her breath in suspense, as the horse wheeled, reared and plunged. Surely the rider would be killed. She said so to Stan, but he merely smiled and said that the cowboys were tough. Another interesting feature was the milking of the wild cows.

All the way home Jean chatted incessantly about the daring young cowboys.

"You could never be interested in a man who wasn't a cowboy, could you Jean?" said Stan.

Something in his voice made Jean glance up at him quickly, but he was looking straight ahead. She gave an evasive reply, and for the rest of the way was lost in a maze of dreams.

Jean found life in the west very agreeable.

"I never knew Stan, to be such a frequent visitor before," observed Jamie one evening. "Wonder what the attraction is. Do you know, sis?"

Jean flushed and became suddenly intent upon the magazine she was reading.

Jean smiled to herself. One sunny afternoon, Jean and Stan went for a ramble along the river. Jean's dark eyes glowed and her cheeks grew pink with exertion.

High up above the river they paused for breath. Jean seated herself with her back against a pine, while Stan threw himself on the fragrant green grass.

All matters seemed to be dreaming that hot lazy afternoon. No sound broke the stillness save for the occasional cries of a loon far overhead.

Stan suddenly raised his head. "Jean, are you happy in the west?"

"Oh, yes, indeed," answered Jean wonderfully.

"Satisfied enough to want to stay here and share the home of a lonely bachelor?"

"That would depend wholly upon whom that said," was murmured Jean, with lowered eyes.

"Even if he wasn't a cowboy?" teased Stan.

"Next to cowboys, I've always adored handsome young Mounties."

"My Jeanie girl," he murmured, as he drew her into his arms.

CARDSTON MAN WINS CLAIM FOR TOTAL DISABILITY BENEFITS

An action of unusual interest was completed recently in Cardston, which has a bearing upon the Life Insurance business here and elsewhere.

That the News publishes herewith the salient facts concerning it, although for obvious reasons no names either of individuals or companies are attached.

In almost every Life Insurance Policy there exists a clause or provision called "Total and Permanent Disability Benefits" and for which a certain definite sum is added to the premium paid by the insured.

This provision, made, in some companies at least, like this: "Whenever the company receives due proof, before default in the payment of premium, that the insured, before the anniversary of the Policy on which the insured's age at nearest birthday is 60 years, has become wholly disabled by bodily injury, or disease so that he is and will be presumably, thereby permanently and continuously prevented from engaging in any occupation whatever for remuneration or profit, and that such disability has then CHILDREN will fret, often for no apparent reason. But there's always Castoria! as often as there is need, in cases of colic, diarrhea or similar tongue, it is invaluable. A coated tongue calls for just a few drops to ward off constipation; so does any suggestion of bad breath. Whenever children don't eat well, don't rest well, or have any little upset—the pure vegetable preparation is usually all that's needed.

existed for not less than sixty days, etc., then the company will and here follows what these benefits are which generally include the waiving of the payments of premiums as they come due, and the payment to the insured of a life income based upon a certain percentage, usually ten per cent, of the total amount of the policy payable yearly.

The claim of the Cardston man referred to was that he was totally and permanently disabled and he had three different doctors' certificates to this effect, and upon the placing of the claim with the Insurance Company, the Company refused either to admit the waiving of the premium or to pay the Life Income payment of one-tenth of the Policy which in this case amounted to $500 and in every case would be a considerable addition to the income of a person so disabled. The Insurance Company staled on the promise that it was not sure that the insured would be wholly prevented FOR LIFE from engaging in any gainful occupation. Under such an interpretation of the clause, no person could get any Life Income until he died, for so long as he lived he might be considered as having a possibility of recovery. Finally this Cardston man grew tired of the delay and forced the issue by an appeal to the Courts, and one of Cardston's lawyers filed the claim. Immediately the company wired the money due under the Policy without allowing the case to come to Court at all.—Cardston News.

Mrs. C. Rafuse, 28 Vernon St., Halifax, N.S., writes: "I had suffered for years from constipation."

For several days at a time my bowels would not move and only when assisted by laxatives, and after a while each kind of laxative I would take seemed to lose its effect until, finally, a friend advised me to use Milburn's Laxative Pills, and since using same have had no trouble, and I am greatly pleased with the results I have had from them."

WINFIELD WEST

The dance held in the Poplar Valley school house, under the management of the ladies of the Winfield U.F.A., was a huge success. Approximately sixty persons were present. Three cars and one truckload coming from Winfield. The more fact that two other dances held on the same night, in close proximity to Winfield proves that the Winfield U.F.A. is a decided success in creating a feeling of friendship and the spirit of true sociability. During the interval, community singing was the first item on the program, followed by songs, broom dancing, etc. Winding up at 3 a.m. brought to a close one of the most enjoyable times I have ever witnessed. Good old Winfield U.F.A., keep up the good work. We admire you, especially the ladies.

The U.F.A. held an organization meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stady, seven new members joining up, making twenty in all. S. Handbury spoke on the history of the Farmers' movement, followed by seventeen impromptu speeches, the subjects being drawn at random from Mr. Stady's hat, which caused endless amusement. The singing of old hymns brought to a close a very interesting meeting. After a delicious lunch, a vote of thanks was given to Mr. and Mrs. Stady for their kind hospitality.

An invitation meeting of the Winfield U.F.A. will take place in the Poplar Valley school house on Feb. 6th. Games, dancing, and singing until 12 p.m., will be among the items on the program.

I humbly apologize to the members of the Winfield Local for my negligence in failing to advertise the wonderful work that is being done in this district in the way of cheering up the people and making life worth living in these depressing times.

From now on you can bet your bottom dollar your unselfish efforts will not pass unnoticed.

Near the close of the evening a presentation was made to the newly-weds. Mr. Forbes Atkinson and Mr. Staples made witty speeches of congratulation, which were very fittingly replied to by the bride and groom. The happy young couple received many beautiful gifts, including a complete silver service with serving tray, a dinner set, many beautiful pieces of silver, china and linen, as well as a good supply of such useful articles as towels and cooking utensils. Everyone joined in singing "For they are jolly good fellows," and in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Vassberg happiness in their new home in the Navarre district, to which they are moving next week.

WEEKLY STOCK MARKET REPORT

The following is a report from the Edmonton Stock Yards, as supplied to The Times for the week ending January 26th.

Receipts: Cattle, 472; Calves, 96; Hogs, 2764; Sheep, 243.

Receipts so far this week have been insufficient to really make a market. Considering the quality of the offerings, there has been a fair trade. Buyers are not showing the same keen attitude and at times salesmen have found it hard to move their offerings. Values on the whole have kept barely steady and in spots a weaker tendency has been noticeable.

Good fed calves selling at $5.00 to $5.50 choice would bring more, medium $4.25 to $4.75. Good butcher steers $4.50 to $4.75, choice more, medium $4.00 to $4.25, common to fair $3.00 to $3.25. Good lightweight heifers $4.25 to $4.50, common to medium kinds $3.50 to $3.75. Good to choice cows $2.75 to $3.25, common to medium $2.10 to $2.50. Canners and cutters 75c to $1.25 and bulls $1.75 to $2.25.

Stockers are moving quite readily at fully steady values, steers and heifers generally at $3.25 to $3.75. Stocker cows at $2.00 to $2.50. Calf market active and firm. General run of good ones $5.50 to $6.00, odd ones up to $7.00. Common to medium $3.50 to $5.00.

Hog market lower and unsettled. Carloads selling at $3.75 for the 'bucos fed and watered. Trucked-in at $3.65 for the 'bucos. Selects at a premium of 50c per cwt. and butchers at a discount of 50c per cwt. for the off grades remain unchanged.

Sheep and lambs are stronger. Medium to good lambs at $4.75 to $5.25. Yearlings $3.50 to $4.00 and ewes $2.50 to $3.25.

U.F.A. SEEKS INCOME TAX: "IT WILL HIT RIGHT PEOPLE"

Edmonton, Jan. 22.—A steeply graded income tax as a new source of provincial revenue was urged in a resolution adopted at the United Farmers' convention here on Friday night.

Submitted by the Wetaskiwin provincial constituency association, the resolution approved was as follows: "Whereas it appears necessary that new sources of provincial revenue will have to be found in order to maintain public services and provide funds for relief, and

"Whereas, only the people who have money can pay taxes; therefore, be it

"Resolved that this convention urge upon the provincial government the advisability of imposing a steeply graded income tax on both persons and corporations, to provide such additional revenue as may be needed."

Adoption of the resolution was moved by Delegate P. S. Beati, of Wetaskiwin. In view of there was no need to be afraid of the tax as it would hit the right people, those with incomes.

There had been considerable speculation concerning the action to be taken by the convention, particularly in view of reports that the provincial government has such a tax under consideration.

POOL TO OPERATE NEW PACKING PLANT IN EDMONTON

Edmonton, Jan. 21.—The Alberta Livestock Raisers' Association has decided to operate a packing plant in Edmonton, it was stated by a delegate during discussion of bacon prices at the session of the U.F.A. convention Wednesday morning.

Further inquiry among those in touch with livestock pool affairs showed that the plan is under consideration.

"I do not think the pool is in a position to make a definite statement," said one livestock man. "For some years it has had such a plant under consideration. So far as the present position is concerned, I do not believe the matter has gone beyond the stage of negotiations."

The discussion was brought about through a resolution from Wetaskiwin which asked the federal government to take any necessary steps to compel the packers to pay the producers of bacon hogs on the basis of export price, less curing and handling charges.

During the debate, A. Speakman, Wm., warned the delegates against taking any action which would lower instead of raise the value of pork.

"We should ask to have the packing industry nationalized," said a delegate.

"Let us support our own livestock pool," said another delegate. "If we do that, there will be no need to ask for fixed prices."

It was pointed out that at times the export prices were lower than the domestic level, so it might be unwise to adopt the export basis in paying producers.

On the Wetaskiwin resolution being put to the convention, it was defeated.

U.F.A. SEEKING AID FOR RETURNED MEN OPERATING FARMS

That soldier settlement loans be made non-interest bearing, that appeal by the pensions board of soldiers' pensions be abolished, and that pensions be granted to blind persons, were recommendations included in resolutions passed by the U.F.A. convention Friday evening.

The motion for removal of interest on soldier settlement loans proposed also that payments be made on the one-third crop share basis, and that security of tenure be guaranteed as long as crop payments are made on that basis.

"It will mean that the soldier settlers won't be forced to sink further into debt," stated the mover of the resolution. Any payment they can make will better their condition, and not just go on interest, as at present, without decreasing their debt.

STEER, TRAPPED WHEN WINTER FREEZES ROPE HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Provost, Jan. 22.—A queer trick was played on a steer here by old man winter, and the animal was only rescued from perishing by a narrow margin when it was found Tuesday evening on the farm of its owner F. H. Stacey.

A rope had been attached to the animal's horns, and this was dragging about a foot along the ground. During the last soft spell of weather a ball of snow about the size of a regulation football had accumulated on the end of the rope.

This ball became anchored to the ground by sudden below-zero weather, rendering the steer powerless to seek shelter from the bitterly cold wind.

The owner states that it took considerable pounding to break the ball, frozen hard to the ground.

THREE BANDITS SECURE OVER $200 IN CASH

Calgary, Jan. 21.—Two holdups executed last night Saturday evening netted three gunmen over $200 in cash.

A lone bandit, operating with speed and precision, held up the staff of the Safeway Store at 1004 Centre street north, shortly after 9 o'clock Saturday evening, and made a getaway with approximately $215 in cash.

The store had just been cleared of customers and at closing time the cash had been removed from the register and piled on a counter.

The manager, Alfred B. Brown, instructed John Plenderleith, an employee, to secure the rear door.

As Plenderleith approached the rear door, it was suddenly thrust open by an armed man. The intruder ordered the clerk to throw up his hands, which Plenderleith did, and motioned for him to enter the main room. The bandit then covered the manager and his staff, hastily assembled on the cash lying on the counter, backed out the rear door and fled.

PREMIER TO PROBE NATIONALIZATION OF LANDS PROBLEM

Edmonton, Jan. 23.—In the near future the government will name a committee of two or three to inquire into and obtain full information on the subject of nationalization of land, which formed the subject of one of the most interesting discussions at the United Farmers of Alberta convention held here last week, according to Premier J. E. Brownlee.

Nationalization of land is an issue which has been the subject of much inquiry by the government. It is discussed under two headings: nationalization of unalienated land and nationalization of all land.

In his address last week to the U.F.A. convention the Premier pointed out that to nationalize all alienated land, it would take an amount at least equal to the capital debt of the province.

ALBERTA GOLD RUSHES SEEM TO END IN DISAPPOINTMENT

Calgary, Jan. 22.—Gold lies in nearly every river, stream and lake in Alberta but mother earth holds tenaciously to her wealth, crushing heartlessly men's onslaught for the elusive mineral. Men have discovered of gold in the numerous waters and in various parts of the province, violating fortunes, but every strike since 1879 has proved a failure.

Fifty-two years ago gold was found in Alberta but murder reared its ugly head when the finders quarrelled and one was killed. From then on the treasure has remained locked in the earth like a rebuke to mankind. A hoodoo seemed to follow gold strikes after the slaying.

According to stories from the Stoney Indians it was in the spring of 1879 that Joe Lemon and his partner "Black Jack" came from Montana to Alberta. They found gold in the foothills near the Livingstone river, about 50 miles west of the town now known as Nanton. They made $27,000, it was said, but in a quarrel Lemon killed his partner with an axe.

H. H. Hall, general secretary, pointed to a significant comparison when he spoke of the bear parlor petition which, he declared, complied to the letter with the direct legislation Act, as representing 55,000 voters and the claims of the liquor lobby in representing 500,000 invested capital. Mrs. White, Provincial President, said, "When we see thousands of people starving and millions of dollars going into the beer parlors, it makes us wonder what kind of a government we have got."

When the Rev. Francis Hall of the U.S.A. was addressing the Presbyterian General Assembly at Hamilton, last summer, he declared the Eighteenth Amendment would never be overthrown until the women of America have been deprived of their votes. What is the matter with the women in wet Canada?

THREE DERAILMENTS OCCUR IN ONE DAY ON WESTERN LINE

Saskatoon, Jan. 25.—Four railway employees were hurt, two seriously, and two trains and a snow plow were derailed Saturday in a series of mishaps on Canadian National lines in the Saskatoon division.

First of the three mishaps occurred Saturday morning at 7:00 o'clock when a railway snow plow derailed one mile east of Eston. Hard snow and gravel on the track was given as the cause.

W.C.T.U.

The key note of the Provincial Prohibition Association, which met in Edmonton last week, was abolition of the beer parlors, not only as the pressing necessity of the present time, but the great danger which they constitute to our national life by providing centers for the liquor traffic and creating and developing in the most insidious way an appetite for alcohol with all its resultant evils of poverty, disease, vice and crime. The fact that the greatest harm had come to the nations through drinking light wines and beers was proven from the history of all time.

H. H. Hall, general secretary, pointed to a significant comparison when he spoke of the bear parlor petition which, he declared, complied to the letter with the direct legislation Act, as representing 55,000 voters and the claims of the liquor lobby in representing 500,000 invested capital. WETASKIWIN RINKS WIN PRIZES IN VISITORS EVENT

In the Visitors' competition, Mrs. Lee of Tofteld played Mrs. McMurdo of Wetaskiwin with a score of 104 in favor of the Tofteld rink. This game lasted for eleven ends and took considerably longer to play than did either of the other two. Play was deliberate on both sides during the early part of the game, both sides making some decidedly good shots. However, in the latter half the Lee rink gained on their adversaries slowly but steadily. The personnel of the winning rink is as follows: Mrs. Lee (skip), Mrs. Calvert, Mrs. Belmes and Mrs. Law, while that of the losing side is Mrs. McMurdo (skip), Mrs. Somers, Mrs. Kelley and Mrs. Wiseman.

In the games Friday afternoon Duclous (Royal) won from Moir (Granites), and P. Mercer (Royal) from Allan (Royal), Taylor (Thistle) won from Lee (Tofteld) and Godson (Granite) from Morrison (Vegreville).

WETASKIWIN HOCKEY TEAM DEFEATS LEAGUE LEADERS

The Wetaskiwin hockey team went to Leduc Tuesday evening to play a game in the triangular league, and succeeded in taking a fall out of the league leaders in overtime play. An exceptionally good game was played, as despite the best efforts of the two aggregations, neither team was able to score during the regular playing time. The cause of the scoreless game was largely attributed to both goal tenders, who played sensational each of them repeatedly stopping shots which would normally be counters. It was decided to play overtime periods of ten minutes, and at the end of the first period, each team had secured one goal. The Wetaskiwin goal was scored by Greiner on a rebound from a Leduc player. In a further overtime period of ten minutes Jim Watson of Wetaskiwin, netted the counter which won the game. Russell Lynn of Leduc, was referee, and gave very good satisfaction.

The players were: Wetaskiwin: Tagtmayer; J. Watson, Neil; Morner; A. Abousaty, R. Watson, Alcher, Parvewell, Gerina. Leduc: Woods; Ego Robertson; Mullen, Kordybanche, Bonin, Butler, Kowal, P. Madulik, J. Madulik.

The standing in the triangular hockey league at the present time is: Leduc 5 2 714 Wetaskiwin 3 4 429 Ponoka 2 4 334

A Thorby correspondent to the Leduc Representative says: Wetaskiwin hockey team visited Thorby last week for a friendly game, the score being 4-2 in favor of Thorby. The "Wets" boasted they could beat us to a frazzle on their own ice. Thorby accepted the challenge, motivated to Wetaskiwin last week in the bitter cold and beat them 3-1.

CANADIAN WHEAT GROUND IN BOND

During 1931 a total of 19,182,000 bushels of Canadian wheat was ground into flour in bond in Buffalo, N.Y. This, on the basis of 4 1/2 bushels to the barrel, is equivalent to 4,262,666 barrels. The Canadian Flour Millers' Association is protesting against this practice, pointing out that exports of flour from Canada last year totalled only 6,893,530 barrels.

ALBERTA OFFICE IN LONDON TO CLOSE

Edmonton, Jan. 23.—Office of the Alberta agent-general in London, for many years a target of opposition members of the legislature on the score of unwarranted expense, will be closed as an economy measure. It is learned here. The office, which was opened in 1931, has been in charge of Hugh M. Baker, secretary to Herbert Greenfield, since the return to Alberta of the former premier in March, 1931, after four years' tenure of the office. Elimination of an overseas representative, it is estimated, will save the province approximately $20,000 annually.

WHICH STORES DO YOU LIKE BEST?

ISN'T IT TRUE that stores which invite your custom oftenest, and which give you most information about their offerings, are those to which you go by preference?

ISN'T IT TRUE that silent or dumb stores---stores which never tell you that your custom is wanted and valued, and which never send you information about their stocks and prices, are less favored by you than are stores which inform you by advertisements in this newspaper about themselves, their stocks, their prices?

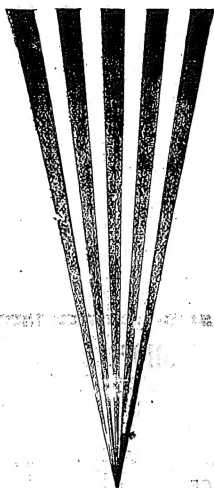

ISN'T IT TRUE that you want, before you go shopping, information about goods of desire, which are obtainable locally, and about where they can be obtained?

THE FACT IS that advertisements are a form or kind of news, and careful buyers want the kind of news which sellers provide just as much as they want the news which it is the business of this newspaper to provide.

FARM WOMEN WOULD HAVE GRADE TWELVE TAUGHT IN RURAL SCHOOLS

The United Farm Women of Alberta will ask the government for the teaching of Grade XII. in rural schools, as a result of a resolution which was passed at the U.F.W. convention last week. A further resolution, seeking to have Normal School entrance passed to grade twelve standard, was lost by a small vote, as it was strongly felt in some sections that this would work a great unfairness to rural children until such time as grade twelve was generally taught.

"We must use our influence to convincing the public that if our rural schools are to make progress we must unite in larger units of administration," said Mrs. W. Ross, convenor of education. She also stressed the need for more adequate supervision for rural and small village schools describing the experiment of voluntary supervisory areas being performed in Saskatchewan. A supervisor whose sole duty it is to improve the teaching given the children supervises 39 class rooms, outlines work, visits the schools, confers with teachers and trustees, and oversees health. The department of education pays the salary and the municipality the expenses of the supervisor, with the maximum cost at $30 per classroom. Mrs. Ross emphasized the use that could be made as yet undeveloped in Canada, of motion pictures and radio in teaching in the schools. She felt that much criticism levelled at education should be given the public, because in Canada the people control education. Besides this, the parents are great teachers of children, and this matter must be impressed upon them. Advancement in education had not kept pace with advancement in other lines in Canada, she felt.

Here and There

Grain shipments from the port of Halifax were nearly 400,000 bushels greater in 1931 than in 1930. Figures for the two years are: 1930, 721,995 bushels; 1931, 1,128,787 bushels.

Gold production from Northern Ontario mines in 1931 is estimated to have a value of $43,000,000. Since mining began 45 years ago, these mines have produced to a value of $395,000,000 worth of gold.

The Mountain comes to Mahomet these days. University of Alberta gives educational courses by radio four times a week, enabling those unable to attend in person to have the university taken to them.

Total value of all field crops produced in Canada in 1931 is estimated at $431,251,000, of which wheat accounted for $108,786,000. Hay and clover is the next most valuable crop, being put at $113,961,000.

A solid block of blue granite being cut by the side of Mt. Sir Donald, in the Canadian Rockies, has been shipped to New Haven, Connecticut, to be incorporated in the new Strathmore Memorial Building now being built at Yale University.

The five great branches of primary industry in Canada, as measured by the latest available statistics of value of production were agriculture, forestry, mining, electric power and fisheries, with the first having a production greater than all the four others combined.

Out for the E. W. Beatty mid-winter golf championship trophy to be fought for over the links of the Royal Colwood Golf Course, February 22-27, 1932, amateurs from Seattle have notified their intention to compete. Last year's cup winners from Victoria will also tee off and there will be strong contingents from Vancouver and the Prairie Provinces as far east as Winnipeg.

Who is the Canadian Pacific pensioner with the longest service record? A controversy recently raging has been ended by the official statement that John Caesar, of Vancouver, is the "grand old man" of the company, with 48 years of service, closely followed by W. J. Grant, of Hamilton, with 47. They are respectively 81 and 78 years of age.

Highly pleased with their first experience of Canadian skiing country, delighted with Canadian hospitality and looking forward to future visits to the Dominion, the Oxford-Cambridge skiers sailed recently from St. John's to Liverpool aboard the Duchess of York. Matches between Canadian and British university skiers will probably be a result of the visit.

Eyes of winter sport enthusiasts are now being focused on the big event of the season on this continent, the 11th annual Eastern International Dog Sled Derby to be held February 22-24 at Quebec over a course of 123 miles, terminating with the Dog Derby Ball at the Chateau Frontenac. Outstanding dog mushers are expected for the event.

AN OLD NEWSPAPER

We have just received an old newspaper from our friend Mrs. Doane, who has kept it since it was published on September 15th, 1864. It is the Crawfordville Journal, edited and published by Jeremiah Keeney. Its watchword "The Union in any event." It contains the acceptance letter of Geo. B. McClellan to Hon. Horatio Seymour, in which, McClellan accepts the nomination by the Democratic National Convention assembled at Chicago on Sept. 12th, 1864, as the candidate at the next election for the Presidency of the United States. There is also a letter from one Joseph A. Gilkey, a member of the 15th Regt. Ind., in which the soldier, who is a member of the Northern Army, describes the company's movements and their camp ground, which was once a fine brick block surrounded by flowering "rubra" but at the time of writing, "nothing remains but a dead brickbat and rubbish, with not a shade tree to shelter us from the burning rays of a Southern sun." The regiment, which had been out about 100 days, had hoped to have a skirmish with the notorious Wheeler, and were disappointed indeed, when neither Wheeler or his rebel soldiers appeared. He tells us that "We had great rejoicing here over the taking of Atlanta, when the news was confirmed on Saturday, 7th guns at Forts Negley, Morton, Gilman, Scott and surrounding batteries boomed forth for about an hour in honor of the victory."

The old paper contains a want ad, which shows that in 1864 merchandise was traded for farm commodities more than at the present time. Wanted, 100,000 lbs. farm cured bacon, 50,000 lbs. beeswax, 500,000 lbs. of feathers, 100,000 lbs. farm butter, 1,000,000 lbs. rags. The advertiser

HILLSIDE U.F.A.

(Intended for last week)

The regular monthly meeting of the Hillside U.F.A. was held in the school house on January 28th. H. G. Young, representing the committee of the debating league, informed the Local that they had been drawn to debate against Lone Ridge U.F.A. Local on Thursday, February 18th, at Lone Ridge. Debaters were appointed to represent the Hillside local.

Considerable time was given over to discussing resolutions to be presented at the annual Convention, and the delegate was instructed as to the local's stand on same.

Owing to the probability of holding the debate with Verdun on Saturday, February 4th, it was decided to hold the next meeting on February 4th, at the school house.

It was also decided to hold a Burns' entertainment in the school house on Friday, January 29th.

MILLET SCHOOL DISTRICT ANNUAL MEETING

The annual school meeting was held in the school house on Jan. 28, with 48 residents present, the largest at any annual meeting in Millet. A. P. Mitchell was chairman, and the meeting was opened at 7 o'clock sharp and the minutes of previous meeting, and the reports, were read and passed. It was decided that the old school grounds were to remain in the possession of Millet S.D. and were to be used as sports grounds indefinitely. The financial statement was read and passed, and the residents passed a vote of thanks to the Trustees for the condition of the School District. Fred Thompson was elected by acclamation as trustee.

"Hello! Is this Mrs. Jones?" "Yes, this is Mrs. Jones." "Have you any idea where your husband is, Mrs. Jones?" He could not understand why she rang off so sharply until he looked in the book again and discovered that he had called the wrong Mrs. Jones—a widow.

Nerves Were a Total Wreck Could Not Eat or Sleep

Price 50c a box

Mrs. Geo. H. Mills, Lake Alma, Sask., writes:—I was taken down with rheumatism and was unable to walk for some time. Although I got back on my feet I was not right as I could not eat or sleep, and my nerves were a total wreck. I decided to take Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and found after taking two boxes I had gained five pounds, and never missed a night's sleep. Right now I never feel better in my life. Sold at all drug and general stores, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont.

Here's a Little Story for Retailers

A YOUNG tailor complained bitterly about his poor business. "I make just as good clothes as 's do," he said, "and I sell them for less, yet 's get most of the business of this district."

This young tailor felt that men ought to find all about him—that they should search him out. He didn't see that it was his job to make known to all men the fact that he made good clothes and sold them at attractive prices. 's, on the other hand, advertised their business, and, of course, men went to them for their clothes.

It's the same all the world over.

buyers go where they are invited to go. They buy, in largest numbers, from those who give them information about their business, service, goods, prices. This is exactly as it should be.

Why shouldn't the most aggressive seller get most business?

The world likes to buy from keen sellers—from retailers who pay them the compliment of telling them about what they have to sell and about their desire for their custom.

Dumb retailers may be fine men, may give good values, may be first-class store keepers, but the buying public prefers to go where advertisements in their newspapers direct them to go.

The wise retailer runs his business in line with what buyers want, because it is profitable to do so.

It costs a retailer far more NOT to advertise than to advertise.

When PAIN Comes

WHAT many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The cure is an alkali, which neutralizes the acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water neutralizes instantly many times that much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go, get a small bottle to try.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 50c a bottle—any drug store. (Made in Canada.)

BIBLE SCHOOL CLOSURE
The Bible School, which has been in session in Wetaskiwin, conducted by the German Baptists of Alberta, terminates on Friday afternoon, and the closing exercises will take place in the Presbyterian Church at two o'clock that day, conducted primarily in the German language. The students will present a play written by Rev. Arthur A. Schade, the principal teacher, which will portray a family conference in which the children second in persuading their reluctant parents, that they ought to attend the Bible School and that their financial conditions are not so bad, that they cannot do it. In the second part a church meeting is called to deal with a request for donations to support the Bible School. Some of the members are represented as seriously objecting to such useless expenses during these hard times, others object claiming the school is there just to give the young people a good time. But finally others arise and point out the need for trained workers in the Bible School and Young People's work, and turn the tide. It is finally unanimously decided to collect provisions and to take an offering to assist needy students in meeting the expenses of the school.

In the third part the students are represented as gathered together on an evening before examination, reviewing their Bible School work. Many humorous incidents arise with this review, and the whole is designed to show just what benefits the students derived from the course. Sixty-five students are in attendance. A chorus is conducted by Rev. A. Ittermann from Fredenburg, along with a quartette from Camrose, will render special music. Credits are to be awarded for students satisfactorily completed which will entitle pupils to a Standard Leadership Diploma.

Rev. Arthur A. Schade, of Pittsburgh, Penn., will give a brief address. Those who are able to understand the language are cordially invited to be present at the closing celebration.

The following students have been in attendance at the school:
Dan Albert, Milbert Benke, Albert Bertsch, Hombert, Elmer, Freda Brown, Gilbert Fulkens, Arthur Forsch, Kurt Grubert, Alfred Hanks, Myrtle Hien, Anna Hoffman, Alvina Holland Lucy Intwert, Oscar Jabs, Gertrude Jasman, Roland Jespersen, Walter Jespersen, Rose Junker, Alma Jespersen, Ruben Kern, Stanley Klappstein, Adeline Klatt, Edith Kruger, Martha Krause, Walter Krause, Edgar Klatt, Frances Link, Martha Link, Lydia Littmann, Hanna Littmann, Adina Littman, Ben Link, Esther Meyers, Gustave Miller, John Mueller, Arpa Meyers, Robert Neske, Rudolph Neubauer, Samuel Ohlhauser, Emil Price, Esther Reschke, Gustav Ross, Asaph Roth, Elmer Roth, Edwin Schmidtke, Arthur Schmidt, Reinhold Schmidt, Martha Schnell, Emil Schmidtke, Albert Schnell, Emma Sosenberg, Walter Stein, Harry Strohschein, Harvey Strohschein, Lilly Sorge, Willie Taubert, Asaph Tobert, Jonathan Tobert, Wenslav Tischert, William Wagner, Ernestine Weigum, Carl Weiser, Emil Weiser, Leroy Wuech, Little Yost.

BEER BY GLASS SALE OPPOSED

A resolution calling the attention of the provincial government to the next session to the beer petition now before the government was passed at the afternoon session of the annual convention of the Alberta Prohibition association at the First Baptist church on Friday.

The petition asks for the prohibition of the sale of beer by the glass, and the regulation of its sale in the same manner as that which is now governing the sale of wines and spirits in the province.

The petition, which was presented to the legislature, had been under examination by a fact-finding committee as to its validity. The convention was informed that it is believed that the validity of the petition has been established, and the government is now urged to take action.

This will probably mean the holding of a prohibition vote on the beer parlors and clubs in the near future. The petition was signed by 55,000 voters in the province.

GRADED BEEF

A statement issued by the Dominion Live Stock Branch for 1931 shows a very substantial increase in sales of graded beef. In all Canada 6,346,555 lbs. branded red and 10,894,190 lbs. blue brand were sold, making a total of 17,240,745 lbs. This shows an increase of about 5,000,000 lbs. over 1930.

This report also shows that the largest consumption 7,108,318 lbs. was in Ontario. Quebec was second and Manitoba third with a record of 2,592,142 lbs.

The beef of well finished, good type beef cattle only can be graded. For this quality beef there is a good demand, both in Canada and in the British markets.
